What does the forest soul taste like?

CUEVAS
Since 1867

Constant evolution

- 1867 Francisco de las Cuevas began the activity of what is now Grupo Cuevas.
- 1944 We began exporting chestnuts and other agro-wild products to America.
- 1970 We started freezing fresh chestnuts to meet the demand of the Asian market.
- 1980 We open the first factory that produces Marron Glacé. We were pioneers in Spain.
- 2012 We won the silver award for "Product Packaging" in the BEST PACK.
- 2023 New website and online store.

The Peeling Process

We are one of the few companies in the world with dual peeling technology: fire peeling and steam peeling.

CUEVAS
Since 1867

We are committed to restaurants, firm in our commitment to keep alive a culinary witness so steeped in history.
